> THE JNSEEN WORLD Bades as It Is Pictured In the Books of the Apocrypha.

The book of Daniel, dating from the Maccalean age, is perhaps the earliest work in which at y clear moral cifforen-tiation as regards the unsten world is manifest. which leads largely in eschitchingy and the secrets of the universe, speaks in some detail of the future of righteous and wicked: "All coodness and joy and glory are prepared for them and are written down for the spirits of those who have died in righteousness, and lot is abundantly beyond the lot of the living. 'And in contrast: "Know ye that their souls (the sinners will be made to descend into sheel, and theyvill become wretched, and great will be their tribulation, and into darkness and a net aid a burning fire, where there is grievous condemnation, will your spirits enter, and there will be rievous condemnation for the genera-In the fourth book of Esdras it is said of the enemies of God that "they shall decay in confusion, am, be consumed with shame, and wither in fear, when they see the glory of the Most High, in whose sight they sin while they are alive." Much influence on later Jewish thoug it was exercised by a well-known passage of the later Isaiah: "They shall go forth; and look upon the carcases of the men that have trans-gressed against me, for their worm shall not die, neither shall their fire be queuched, and they shall be an abhor-ring unto all flesh." These words in their primary meaning refer to the material rodies of the dead, but in the Hel-lenistic age they were used of the future world of spirits. And the picture of which the outline was thus sketched was by degrees tilled in from non-Bibli cal sources. But this filling in went on but slowly and was not far a lyanced at the beginning of the Christian era.— Contemporary Review.

The Art a Last One to the Present Day Seribblers of Hasty Notes, i

Every one knows, of course, that the actual number of letters passing through the mails of every civilized country is greater rather than less, year by year. But every one also feels that these let-or n ght, city or country. ters are no longer letters, in the true and they have the loose and disjointed But didn't Wheeler pitch yesterday? and careless phraseology of the tele-teristion has signed pitcher Sharrot, graphic message. The only people who "compose" their letters now are cultivated old ladies. Their college bred granddinghters, in-tellectually armed and professionally equipped, exhibit productions in that line, of which, for the most part, it might be sail, as Henry James remarked of the notes of invitation of the London society woman, that they have nothing in common with the epistolary art but the postage stamp. :

It may be he d that such an accomplishment is not, after all, of the greatest value. But Lehind if there is an instinet, doep seated in the race, that a widespread labit of cardess writing af-fects very directly the thinking of a poople. And this one cannot but believe to be the case. It takes no intellect to put plain facts into honest, se f respecting phrases. But it takes self restraint and attentiveness, and these lead in time to a disciplined and coherent way of look-ing at life. "The Point of View" in Scribner's. Paya's American Duct.

James Payn, the English writer, tells this story of the "American plan" of dueling, wherein the two duelists, with one second, meet within doors and draw lots for who shall shoot himself: On a recent occasion, A and B, having had a "difficulty," A was the unlocky destruction into the next apartment.
